

DID YOU MISS IT?

IT WAS IN LAST WEEK'S

GRANTHAM
JOURNAL.co.uk

Fairtrade exhibition success brings town closer to goal

HOPES to make Grantham a Fairtrade town are even higher after a two-week exhibition in The George Centre was hailed a success.

Organised as part of Fairtrade Fortnight by Churches Together, it was a chance for shoppers to find out more about the ethical products and how buying them instead of regular goods ensures traders are fairly paid.

Jack Odell, of Churches Together, said: "The Fairtrade exhibition in The George Centre attracted quite a lot of interest during the fortnight.

"Councillors and business representatives attended an evening reception, when the goals to become a Fairtrade town were explained."

Shoppers enquiring about the exhibition were invited to take part in a mini quiz with a hamper or Fairtrade goods, donated by the Co-op in Dysart Road, up for grabs to the winner.

Jack O'Dell, Terri Rogan and Jane Campbell at the Fairtrade exhibition. Photo: 239B